Ninety Seconds with Noah

Current Happenings in Region #5

Noah Benedict

What is the next goal in your operation? Take a second and think about that question. Maybe you have a clear answer and maybe it is a little harder to define. Recently, the American Hereford Association (AHA) field staff held our annual field staff meeting in Kansas City. While there, we were challenged by our AHA leaders to define successful operations in our territory and give a reason why we thought so. Each of us brought up the term “customer service” when looking at those successful operations. So, I am here to challenge all Hereford breeders out there to incorporate customer service into their next set of goals for their operation.

Hereford cattle are so versatile and vital to the beef cattle industry. These cattle provide value in the commercial cow-calf operations, feedlots, any Hereford seedstock operation and even in the show ring. However, one thing we need to do as breeders and producers, is continue to promote the breed. We must be able to keep the demand for Hereford cattle as high as we can, so that our customers can see more profit. Here are a few examples.

The Hereford breed has proven value in adding bulls into commercial operations. These F1 calves are some of the most impressive calves out there, but commercial producers may still need help marketing them. Offer to buy the females back for your own commercial herd. Help make the connection with them to send them to the Greater Midwest Hereford Sale on January 4, 2024. Do what you can to help get these calves sold. After all, promoting these cattle only helps promote your program since they are out of your bull.

Hereford cattle and Hereford based crosses are excelling in the feedlot. Grades are going up and therefore, so is the demand. Our Certified Hereford Beef® program needs our breeders help. Strike up a conversation with the local restaurant or grocery store. Tell them about CHB® and what makes it desirable. You may not think that one conversation matters, but I promise, if a store manager hears a question or two about CHB®, they are going to be looking into it to see if they can make money selling it.

For those of you selling show cattle, take the time to help your customers. Not everyone buying a show project is going to win every show, however they are buying so their kids can grow as individuals. Help them to do that. Help teach when applicable, go to their farm and watch them compete. These kids are doing a lot of work promoting an animal you raised go, and help them do it.

These ideas are a start to the idea of customer service, but obviously there are many more. A little extra work may be added, but the benefit of keeping a customer coming back (with more money in their pocket) will work wonders for your operation. Good luck to everyone that is competing at shows and having sales this fall, and as always, never hesitate to reach out.

Remembering Ernest C. Smith

Ernest C. Smith, age 77, of Wooster, Ohio passed away on the morning of May 31, 2023.

Ernie remembered many formative experiences helping his parents run the family Smith Mill Farm located in Conotton Valley between Sherrodsville and Leesville in Carroll County, Ohio. Growing up, he participated in 4-H. After graduating from Conotton Valley High School, he attended Ohio State University, receiving a B.S. in Agricultural Economics and an M.S. in Agricultural Education.

Ernie went on to teach Vo-Ag production, agribusiness, and adult education classes at Carrollton High School. Later, he became the Member Service Director for the American Polled Hereford Association as well as its sales/correspondent representative for its Polled Hereford World magazine for the Northeast U.S., receiving national and state association service awards. This led to a management position at Dunwalke Farm in Far Hills, New Jersey with nationally-recognized cattle herds. Before retiring, Ernie and his family moved back to Ohio where he joined College Hills Honda in Wooster as a sales associate.

Ernie loved fishing and remained a lifetime Cleveland Guardians (FKA Indians) fan. He was active in his home churches, including the Calvary United Methodist Church Sherrodsville, Ohio and Grace Church in Wooster, Ohio.

Ernie is survived by his wife of 38 years, Carol (Reinhold) Smith of Wooster, Ohio; their son Nathaniel Smith of Fort Lauderdale, Florida; their daughter Bethany (Smith) Motts and son-in-law

Josh Motts of Canal Winchester, Ohio; brother Lanty Smith and sister-in-law Margaret (Chandler) Smith of Durham, North Carolina; brother James Smith of North Canton, Ohio; and Smith and Newell nieces and cousins. His sister Ruth (Smith) Bolster of Chesterland, Ohio, and parents Lloyd and Ellen (Newell) Smith of Sherrodsville, Ohio preceded him in death.

Though we grieve his passing, he would want to remind us that, "This is the best day we have today."

Ernie requested that in lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to the Leadership Institute, Steven P.J. Wood Building, 1101 North Highland St., Arlington, VA 22201 or to the church previously mentioned.

Private or public condolences may be shared with the family at: www.custerglenn.com.
